

Montana Waters Considered Navigable Under USCG Jurisdiction

Big Horn River: Navigable in it's entirety, including Yellowtail Reservoir

Canyon Ferry Reservoir

Clark Fork River: Navigable to mile 4.0 measured from the mouth

Fort Peck Reservoir

Hauser Dam Reservoir

Kootenai River: Navigable in it's entirety within the United States

Lake Koocanusa

Missouri River: Navigable to a point 263 miles upriver from Ft. Benton, MT, near Three Forks

Sewell Lake

Yellowstone River: Navigable from mouth at Missouri River to Intake, MT

Yellowtail Reservoir

Note: The following waters have been determined non-navigable under USCG jurisdiction:

Callahan Creek

Flathead Lake

Flathead River

Lake Creek

McDonald Lake

St. Mary's River and Lake

St. Regis River

Stillwater River

Tiber Reservoir

Tongue River